
NAKE Bulletin 00- 01 (12 January 2000)

Job at Development Research Institute IVO

Extended closing date: 24 January 2000

IVO

The Development Research Institute - IVO - is a centre for research, training and policy advice in the field of socio-economic problems of developing countries. In its approach it emphasizes the distributional aspects of development. The Institute is a foundation, established by Tilburg University. The Institute plays a central role in the development cooperation policy of Tilburg University.

The Development Research Institute has an opening for a

Development Economist (1 fte)

Activities:

The economist will be working in applied research, teaching, advisory services and inter- university cooperation projects with developing countries.

Requirements:

Ph.D in (development) economics with mastery in quantitative methods and techniques extended research experience good publication record (preferably with emphasis on national and international distributional aspects of development) working experience in developing countries preferably working experience in acquisition, project management and advisory activities willing to travel abroad regularly good knowledge of English, preferably of Spanish and Dutch as well good team-worker

Other:

The appointment will initially be for one year, with perspectives on a permanent contract. Salary depending on age and experience, (min. Fl. 5.534,-, max. Fl. 9.429,- ('99 index), based on Dutch University salary scales. Women are explicitly invited to apply.

Applications, accompanied with a C.V. and list of publications should be sent to: The Director of IVO, Drs. B.H. Evers, P.O. Box 90153, 5000 LE Tilburg.

Closing date: 8 January 2000

For further information on IVO in general, visit our website:
<http://cwis.kub.nl/~FEW/IVO>